

MORAL COMPASS COLLECTIVE

Public Pledge: Good Over Evil. People Over Profits.

I pledge to stand for human dignity and human rights, without exception.

I affirm that every person has inherent worth, regardless of race, religion, nationality, gender, political belief, or economic status. I reject any system or ideology that depends on fear, dehumanization, or silence to maintain power.

I commit to choosing good over evil — by acting with integrity, compassion, and courage, even when it is inconvenient or unpopular.

I commit to putting people over profits — by opposing exploitation, corruption, and policies that sacrifice human lives, freedom, or dignity for power or wealth.

I recognize that fascism and authoritarianism grow when ordinary people look away. I pledge not to look away. I will question injustice, resist dehumanization, and stand in solidarity with those whose rights are threatened.

I honor that we come from different backgrounds, beliefs, and political traditions. I commit to unity without uniformity, grounded in a shared moral compass that values truth, freedom, and accountability.

I will show up — in my community, my workplace, my faith space, and my public life — to defend human rights and to protect the democratic principles that allow people to live freely and with dignity.

This pledge is not about party or ideology.

It is about conscience.

It is about courage.

It is about people.

Good over evil.

People over profits.

Guided by a shared moral compass.
